Wandle River and Trail

The river Wandle itself is a tributary of the Thames to the south west of London, consisting of 15 miles of rich chalk stream habitat in good condition, which in its industrial heyday, was the ‘hardest working river in London’, with over 90 mills along its banks throughout time. The river rises in two sources Waddon and Carshalton.

The Trail mostly follows the Wandle River, and runs for about 12.5 miles (20km) from East Croydon Station to the Thames Path in Wandsworth near Wandsworth Town train station. There are 2 main starting points: Wandle Park, Croydon (12 mile walk) or Carshalton Ponds, Carshalton (9 mile walk). In places the trail is narrow and uneven for wheelchair users.

The Trail map shows a cycle route and walking route and highlights the fascinating places to visit along its length.

The Trust have worked hard over the years with partners to improve the Trail and we will continue to secure investment to make the Trail safer and more accessible for more people to enjoy.

The Wandle River Regional Park

The Wandle Valley Regional Park is a vibrant network of over 40 green spaces; and 12 nature reserves, linked by the River Wandle, covering 900 hectares. The Wandle Valley has a rich history, deriving from its industrial heritage, unique natural environmental and wildlife attributes.

The Wandle Valley Regional Park Trust

The Wandle Valley Regional Park Trust is a charitable trust that was established in 2013 and has been set up to provide the leadership and coordination to build a new regional park for Londoners stretching from Croydon in the South, through Sutton, Merton and to Wandsworth in the North.

Our shared vision

Our shared vision is for the Wandle Valley to be a coherent and vital part of London’s green space network, creating a place, rich in heritage, where people are proud to live, work and play, that contributes to the economic vibrancy of South London.

Wandle Trail Highlights

1. The Wandle Delta
   This is the point where the River Wandle meets the Thames.

2. Ram Brewery
   Until its closure in 2006 the site of Youngs brewery was the longest scene of continuous brewing recorded in these islands. Several historic listed buildings survive alongside the ‘Spread Eagle’ pub opposite with its high Victorian interior.

3. Confluence with the Graveney
   Just north of the railway bridge and adjacent a site once occupied by the suruey iron railway the meeting with the tiny River Graveney is marked by a viewing platform. The name along with that of Tooting Graveney derives from the Huguenot De Gravenel family.

4. Merton Priory Walls
   Surviving sections of the old priory wall can still be found in many of the areas gardens, especially near Liberty Avenue.

5. Merton Priory Chapter House
   Merton was a major Augustinian priory, founded in 1117 and dissolved in 1538, whose foundations are preserved in a chamber under Merantun Way.

6. Confluence with the Graveney
   Merton Abbey Mills
   The craft market alongside the Wandle at Merton occupies a range of Arts and Crafts style buildings built by Arthur Liberty for his printing works and rescued from dereliction. Older buildings like the Liberty Mill with its working wheel and the curious Colour House nearby are reminders of the rich industrial history here.

7. William Morris Factory Site
   This site formerly housed a range of picturesque old timber buildings including a calico printing works was acquired by William Morris in 1881 and turned out his famous printed textiles, hangings and stained glass. The site later housed the Merton Board Mills.

Wandle Trail Highlights

1. The Pickle Ditch
The former course of the Wandle through Merton survives as a 1km long backwater bypassed by a mill cut.

2. Deen City Farm
Farm and riding stables offering children’s events and educational programmes.

3. Ravensbury Mill
The earliest reference found to a mill here is in a rent roll for the Manor of Ravensbury which records that rent was paid on a newly erected mill below Ravensbury House.

4. Watermeads Nature Reserve
An 11 acre Nature Reserve with wetland habitats recently opened to public access - one of National Trust’s earliest acquisitions.

5. The Wandle Industrial Museum
The Museum’s mission is to preserve, store, and interpret the heritage and history of the industries and people of the River Wandle.

6. Culvers Lodge
This remnant of the Culver’s Estate provides a window to a fascinating family story of wealth, commerce, and Victorian philanthropy.

7. Carshalton Ponds
The springs and ponds in the centre of old Carshalton date back for centuries, probably explaining why there was an early Saxon settlement here.

8. Wilderness Island
A nature reserve with full public access. Once an important industrial site with large mills and a branch terminus of the Surrey Iron Railway.

9. Honeywood Museum
Edwardian house overlooking ponds and now home to a museum of local history.

10. Mitcham Water Tower
Unique early C18th building in the grounds of Carshalton House. Contains wonderful delft tiled bagnio or bath chamber, orangery and saloon.

11. The Wandle Hall Park
50 hectare rump of a large country estate left to the National Trust by Gilliat Hatfield the last heir of a tobacco merchant’s family in 1941. A pair of butter mill mills, the stable block, historic outbuildings and Morden Hall itself survive. The Wandle Trail is well signed through the park, open free of charge.
GET ACTIVE Wandle Valley

Parks, trails and rest facilities provide opportunities for physical activity and can help people of all ages lead a more active lifestyle.

Get walking!

A walk from Morden Hall Park to Colliers Wood Station will take you just 30 minutes. If you did this just five times a week, you’d reach your target of 150 minutes!

10,000 steps per day is just under half of the Wandle Trail and equates to about 5 miles, that’s like walking from East Croydon Station to Morden Hall Park!

Cycling is whizzy good

A 30 minute ride burns, on average, over 300 calories. You could cycle from Wandle Park in Croydon to Wandle Park in Merton during that time!

Spoilt for choice

In the Wandle Valley, there are over 40 green spaces so there’s plenty of room to be active!

The Wandle Trail Code

Shared use paths away from the road help many people make their everyday journeys safely and they are also important for leisure. Many people including young, elderly and disabled people benefit from shared paths, which provide valuable opportunities to travel in a traffic-free environment, and to relax, unwind and play.

Trail top tips

- Share the space
- Be considerate to other users
- Drop your pace
- Slow down in good time
- Pedestrians go first
- Let people walking have priority
- Be visible to others
- Have lights on your bike, wear bright clothing, have a bell to sound
- Be careful on junctions

Beddington Park

Overlooking the great former deer park of Beddington these and adjacent buildings are the remnant of a medieval manor, with links to Queen Elizabeth I. The Grade I listed Great Hall with its arch-braced hammerbeam roof is occasionally open to the public.

Beddington Mill

On an ancient milling site, the current building (recently converted to flats) dates from 1850 and was a corn mill until the early 20th century.

Beddington Farmlands Nature Reserve

One of the best urban refuges for nature within London.

Carew Manor
